Art Unit: 1754

It is noted that applicant did not follow Rule 1.121 in claim 1 to underline "characterized by a strontium/rubidium separation factor greater than 12,500 at an alkaline pH" as a newly added insertion. The Rule has been waived by the examiner and the amendment has been entered.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1,16-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claim 1, "characterized by a strontium/rubidium separation factor greater than 12,500 at an alkaline pH" is new matter. Applicant's arguments do not provide support for this limitation in that it is only argued that "greater than 12,500" does not introduce new matter. Support for the whole limitation noted above as new matter cannot be found in the instant specification. It is noted that the definition of separation factor stated as being in instant pg. 12 cannot be found there.

The limitations of each of claims 16-57 are new matter. Specific support in the instant specification needs to be pointed out.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 34-37, 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 34, "The process" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claims 35-37, "The rubidium-82 generator" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claim 46, "the molybdenum target" lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 42 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lehto, et al., "The Ion Exchange of strontium on sodium titanate ..." or Taylor '583 or Grant '567 or Yano, "Essentials of a Rubidium-82 Generator for Nuclear Medicine".

Each of these references teaches or at least suggests the instantly claimed "rubidium-82 generator". See the abstract of each.

Art Unit: 1754

Any difference imparted by the product by process limitations would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made because where the examiner has found a substantially similar product as in the applied prior art the burden of proof is shifted to the applicant to establish that their product is patentably distinct not the examiner to show the same process of making, In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685, In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324, In re Spada, 15 USPQ2d 1655, In re Fitzgerald, 205 USPQ 594, and MPEP 2113.

Applicant's arguments filed July 29, 2003 and December 16, 2003 have been fully considered and they are persuasive over the previous grounds of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
